

The diagram illustrates five types of agricultural plots, each represented by a distinct pattern of colored shapes within a rectangular border:

- Seminativo: A plot filled with small, randomly distributed red dots.
- Frutteto: A plot containing larger blue circles arranged in a regular grid.
- Vigneto: A plot filled with vertical red lines.
- Vigneto - Alberata: A plot containing red squares arranged in a regular grid.
- Serre: A plot filled with purple rectangles arranged in a regular grid.
